

Rami Kadi Maison de Couture Takes Over the 75th Annual Cannes Film Festival

For the 75th Annual Cannes Film Festival, the crème-de-la-crème of prominent figures gathered onto its red carpet, embarking on a rich, international journey through cinema. Conjunctionally, from May 17 till the 28th, the star-studded event was a playground for fashion houses to feature and adorn celebrities and influencers in their finest designs, with Rami Kadi Maison de Couture among those that awed attendees with creation after exceptional creation.

Rami Kadi has always been a prolific designer at the Cannes Film Festival. For this year's edition, the Maison dressed an array of Arab and international public figures in designs from the Spring-Summer 2022 "Lucid Algorithms" collection and previous seasons' collections, as well as fashioning custom-made creations that debuted at the festival.

Read through for a look at all the celebrities who graced the red carpet in Rami Kadi Maison de Couture designs.

Cindy Kimberly in an orange custom couture gown with a hand-embroidered bodice and dramatic taffeta overskirt.

Marianne Fonseca in a holographic heat stamped jersey couture gown.

Fatima Al Banawi in a custom couture hand-made silk chiffon gown embroidered with holographic threads, featuring a laser-cut feathered cape.

Ann-Sophie Thieme in a couture Spring-Summer 2022 “Lucid Algorithms” collection green paradise flash gown, embroidered with crystals against a tulle frill cape.

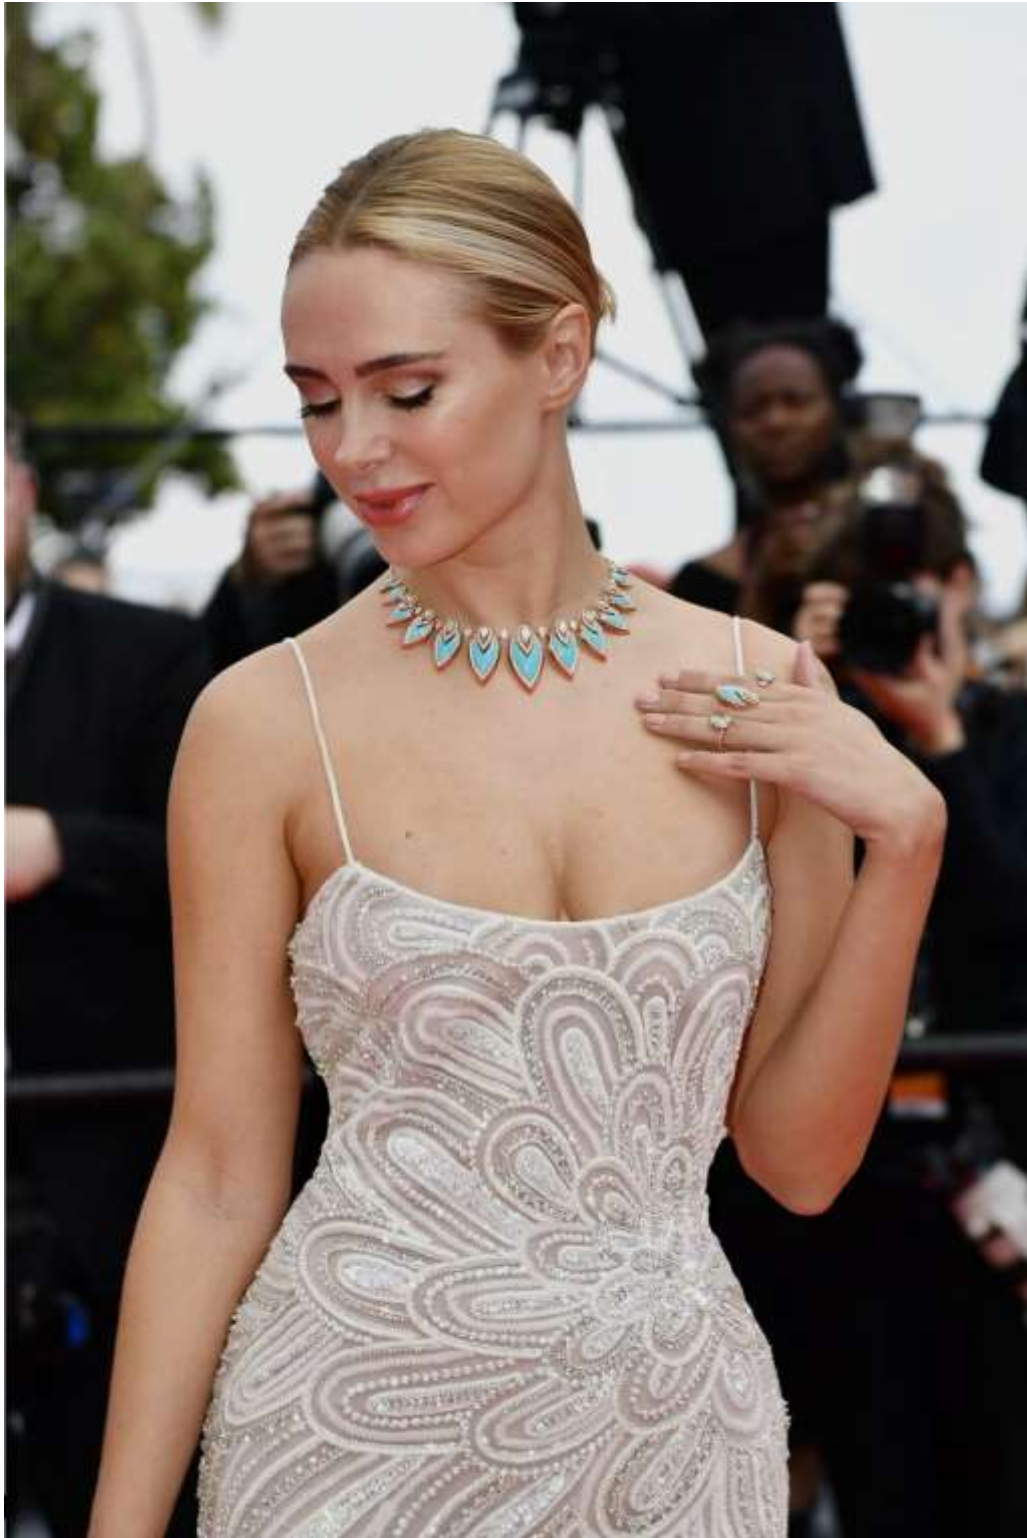

Beatrice Valli in a mermaid-inspired couture Spring-Summer 2022 “Lucid Algorithms” collection gown, adorned with 3D beads, sequins, and crystals.

Yasmine Sabri in a holographic custom-made couture one-shoulder gown of handmade dégradé sequins.

Tessa Brooks in a couture Spring-Summer 2022 “Lucid Algorithms” collection gown featuring a voluminous ruffled organza skirt and delicate embroidery.

Kimberly Garner in a custom couture white mermaid scale dress, embroidered with gleaming sequins and Swarovski stones.

Ajwa Al Joudi in a couture Spring-Summer 2022 silver gown featuring a high neckline and embellished crystal fringes and sequins.

Daniela De Jesus Cosio in a green couture lurex chiffon draped cutout gown adorned with Swarovski crystals and tassels.

Gabi De Martino in a couture draped off-shoulder gown printed over matte sequins.

Leomie Anderson in a couture princess-cut gown embellished with sequins & Swarovski, featuring a back-twist of upward feathers.

Neelam Kaur Gill in a custom couture crystallized fishnet set with a draped cut-out skirt and top.

Pritika Swarup in a couture black gown featuring laser-cut plexi in a geometric flower pattern, with a Tafta cape.

Fernanda Motta in a custom-made couture design of shimmering water sequins embroidered over an ombré silk chiffon.

Daiane Sodre in a couture Spring-Summer 2022 “Lucid Algorithms” collection light pink tailleur fully embellished with holographic sequins featuring a side scarf edged with sequin fringing.

Noor Kleinenberg de Groot in a couture gown embroidered with multicolored holographic scroll sequins draped with a flowing asymmetrical silk chiffon.

It's an eternal pleasure for Rami Kadi Maison de Couture to feature its designs at the Cannes Film Festival.

Here's to next year!